LOCAL PEOPLE WILL ENJOY VACATION ON LABOR DAY

Following Its Usual Custom, The Glendale Evening News Will Not Be Issued

LABOR DAY, Monday, September 5, comes as a delightful respite to the merchants of Glendale this year. Following a strenuous week, it will enable the people of this city to relax and many motor trips to the mountains and beaches are planned. The majority of stores will be closed all day while others will close at 1 p. m.

Following its usual custom, The Glendale Evening News will not publish on Monday, thus giving its force a needed rest from the greatest week in the history of this paper.

All advertising records have been smashed. Circulation, too, reaches its highest peak this week because Glendale people appreciate a "home town" paper.

Big Bicycle Contest

For those who remain in Glendale there will be a big Labor Day bicycle race program beginning at 9:30 a. m. at Broadway and Verdugo road.

It is staged by William Pfeifer and valuable prizes are hung up for the boys who display the greatest speed on wheels.

The Moon Festival of the Tujungans, which is described in other columns, also will attract hundreds from here over the holinay. A Labor day program will be given at Seelig Zoo park by the workers in Los Angeles.

Playing With Matches Causes Another Fire

The members of station No. 1 of the Glendale fire department of East Broadway were summoned yesterday at 3 p. m. by S. Okado of Highland avenue and Kenneth Road, whose hay barn had been set ablaze by children playing with matches. As there was no fire hydrant near the firemen were compelled to use dirt to subdue the flames, which had practically consumed the barn and its contents when the department arrived. The damage was estimated at $250, most of the loss being that of the hay. Several horses were saved from the conflagration.

A call was also sent to the department when an automobile belonging to J. F. Fisher caught on fire at Elk avenue and Brand boulevard. The small blaze was out, however, when the truck arrived.

Bandit Shot by Local Officer Dies of Wound

Emanuel McKnight, the confessed Huntington Park bank bandit, who was shot by Motorcycle Officer Merle Collins the first of the week while escaping arrest, died in a Los Angeles hospital yesterday from his wound. The Glendale police were after him on a bad check charge when he made a break for freedom in a Los Angeles garage and was shot.

HOSTESS AT LUNCHEON

Mrs. Volney E. Philip of 221 North Orange street entertained a group of friends from Los Angeles and Glendale with a cafeteria luncheon at her home Thursday. Boquets of pink and white asters were used for decoration. Guests included Mrs. David Mitchell, Sr., Miss Annabel Mitchell, Mrs. David Mitchell, Jr., Phillip Mitchell, David Mitchell, III, and Mrs. Van Mitchell of Los Angeles, Miss Louise Shirk of Santa Monica, Mrs. Harriet Dow, Mrs. C. F. Parker, Mrs. Lillian Dow, Mrs. Robert T. Philp and the hostess, Mrs. V. E. Philp of Glendale.

LUNCHEON, THEATRE PARTY

Mrs. M. K. Russell of 612 East Maple avenue entertained at a luncheon and theatre party Thursday afternoon in honor of her sister, Mrs. Frank T. Russell of Kansas City and Miss Lillian Russell of New York. The party took lunch at a Los Angeles tea room and later attended one of the theatres. The guests included Miss Elizabeth Russell, Mrs. E. L. Nance, Miss Frances Russell, Mrs. L. Luring and the guests of honor, Mrs. Frank T. Russell and Miss Lillian Russell.

BACK FROM BAY CITY

Miss Ida Waite, principal of the Colorado street school, has returned from San Francisco, where she has been enjoying her vacation since the closing of school in June. She is making her home with Mrs. Ella Richardson at 317 North Brand boulevard.

BABIES! Best Thing City Raises

The three prize winning babies are Warren Willis Ertel, age 10 months (above); Gerald A. (Jerry) Simons, aged 10½ months (center); and Lillian Belle Springsteel, age 5 months (below).

Twenty-five Tots Entered In Contest Held at Business Men's Show Yesterday

Twenty-five babies registered for the Glendale Better Babies Contest at the exposition Friday afternoon.

The cup winner in the contest was Warren Willis Ertel, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ertel of 412 West Salem street and is a product of Canton, O. He is 10 months old, weighs twenty-four pounds, is thirty inches tall and has eight teeth.

Gerald A. Simon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Simon of 633 North Brand boulevard came second. The little fellow, who was born in Los Angeles, is ten months old, weighs twenty-three pounds, twenty-nine and one-half inches tall and has four teeth. Dr. G. Kaemmerling, who superintended the measuring of the infants, declared Jerry the most "medically perfect" child he has handled in some time.

Third prize was awarded Lillian Belle Springsteel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Springsteel of 900 Orange Grove avenue, who is five months old, was born at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital and is twenty-six inches tall and weighs fourteen pounds, eight ounces.

Superintend Measuring

The Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital sent a special group of nurses to superintend the measuring of the babies. Mrs. D. D. Harris, R. N., superintendent of nurses, was in charge; Miss Emily Armstrong, R. N., Miss Margaret Psenner and Miss Evans were the graduate nurses; Misses Anderson Fisher, senior nurses and Misses Gardner and Halm, junior nurses.

Raymond B. Dunlap, chief attendance officer of the Los Angeles city schools, Dr. Ralph Maker of Los Angeles and Dr. H. G. Westphal of Glendale were the judges.

The prize winner will be awarded an engraved silver loving cup and the two second winners will receive silver feeding spoons.

The baby contest was a credit to Glendale as a producer of splendid, healthy youngsters.

All the babies showed the healthy tan and rosy coloring that comes from a life in the sunshine and the Glendale Sanitarium is planning to compare the charts of measurements with those made in other cities, feeling sure that this will prove Glendale children superior in every way.

AUTOMOBILES IN COLLISION

Automobiles driven by Earl Gibbs of 330 South Flower street, Los Angeles, and W. R. Bonebreake of 5930 Carlton Way, Hollywood, collided yesterday while crossing the Southern Pacific tracks at Brand boulevard, badly damaging both machines. The steps and fender on one side of Bonebreake's car were demolished, while the left front wheel of Gibbs' machine was smashed.

Wedding Anniversary Is Observed by Club

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Chappell of 338 Vine street entertained the members of the Pioneer club and their husbands last night at their home. The affair was in honor of their fifteenth wedding anniversary. The house was beautifully decorated in pink asters and hydrangeas and during the course of the evening dainty refreshments were served.

The guests and members of the club were Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Vinton of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Van Dyke, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Challin, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bullinger, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Frazee, Mrs. Mary Grigg. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Blake Franklin and Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Abell.

The evening was spent in playing literary games and music. The club presented the host and hostess with a beautiful hand-etched crystal vase in honor of their anniversary.

MR. AND MRS. MASON HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mason of 204½ East Chestnut street returned Wednesday from a five weeks' vacation at San Francisco, where they were the guests of their sons, William and "Jim," the latter being well known in Glendale. From San Francisco "Jim" Mason and parents and friends drove to Yosemite, where they remained for a week at Camp Curry, and also visited other points of interest. Mrs. Mason states that her son "Jim" is planning to pay Glendale a visit as soon as his work can be arranged.

LEAVE ON FISHING TRIP

Mr .and Mrs. Burnett McIrwin and son, Malcolm, of 702 East Orange Grove avenue, accompanied by Mrs. H. M. Merrill, W. F. B. Gurnee and daughter, La Verne of 340 North Cedar street, left this morning for Santa Barbara, where they will spend the next few days on a fishing trip. On Sunday the party will motor along the coast several miles above Santa Barbara, where they will enjoy the remainder of their outing camping on the beach.

REV. CALDERWOOD IS HOME

MOON FESTIVAL IS OPENED; CROWDS WILL ATTEND

Varied Attractions Provided and Plenty of Fun for Everyone Is Assured

By HOWARD M. McGILLIS

With practically every resident of the Monte Vista valley in attendance, in addition to several hundred visitors from various parts of southern California, the much-heralded five-day Moon Festival of the Tujungans was opened yesterday with a bang. With all roads leading to the fair grounds brightly decorated with flag-bedecked poles and numerous variegated streamers of bunting floating majestically in the enchanted mountain breezes the thriving little center of the "Peaceful Valley" of Tujunga was "all dolled up" like a French count calling on an American heiress. And it had reason to be so splurged, as the present carnival is the most elaborate and complete affair of its kind ever staged in the community.

With all of the customary side shows and concessions that are typical of an old-fashioned country fair—merry-go-round, Ferris wheel, cider mill, grab bags, animal shows and-so-on-and-so-forth—in addition to a number of new and unique features, the main streets of Tujunga rival the famous amusement piers of Venice and other beach resorts. The

Recent Changes Made In Fire Department

Among the recent changes that have been made in the local fire department is the addition to the force of station No. 1 of Dean Williams and also that of Wm. Gould to station No. 2, which is the one in the southern section of the city. Mr. Williams, who has been serving on the local police department for the past few months, is formerly of Cleveland, Ohio, where he was on the fire department of that city. "Billy" Gould, who will be recognized by the old timers as the former city marshal of Tropico, has been employed on the Burbank police department for the past several years.

K. K. CLUB ENTERTAINS

The K. K. club entertained at a party last night at the home of Miss Louise Wimmer of 312 North Orange street. The evening was devoted to Bunco and dancing. The house was attractively decorated in the girls' school and class colors, being red and black for their school, and red and green for their class. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and punch were served.

The guests included the Misses Lois and Edith Schuyler, Beulah Warren, Garnet Peters, Millicent Alvord, Margaret Frazee, Grace Judd, Lucille Woods and the hostess, Louise Wimmer, and Messrs. Walter Marple, Lloyd Culver, Roland Percy, Don Davis, Phillip Davis, Homer Warren, Raymond Goodman, Lee Davis, Rhuark Dudley, Bob Howlett and Earl Davis.

SPEEDER PUT ON PAROLE

William Moore of 328 Arden avenue, who was arrested by Motorcycle Officer M. G. Collins on August 29, for traveling at a speed of thirty-two miles an hour, was yesterday given a suspended sentence of 100 days and $100 by Police Judge F. H. Lowe, and was also placed on parole for a time to be stated within a few days. This was Moore's second traffic offense in Glendale.

Judges Have Most Difficult Task In Selecting Trio of Prize Winners

PROUD GLENDALE mothers were not content to have the chief feature of the exposition be the dress of fashionable women. Friday afternoon was chosen, therefore, for a special kiddies' revue, three physicians and one of the Los Angeles city school officials judging the youngsters over 2 years of age and choose three of the thirty splendid children who participated as the most attractive, healthy and handsome in the group.

It was not an easy choice, by any means, and the judges first voted to order prizes for all of them, but that proved to be against the rules.

The first prize for the kiddies' revue was awarded to Malcolm Edward Harris, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Harris of 1268 Mariposa street. Malcolm was born in Como, Mississippi, February 1, 1917, he is three feet eight inches tall and weighs forty-two pounds eight ounces. He was chosen because of his splendid health and unusually upright carriage. Dressed as a sailor lad he was the manliest little chap imaginable.

Gets Second Prize

The second prize went to little Virginia Dare Harvill, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Harvill of 432 West Lexington Drive. Virginia was 4 years old January 20, 1921. She was born in Los Angeles, but has lived all her life in Glendale, is all a native daughter should be, with hair as gold as California sunshine and a smile as sweet and cheeks as pink as California roses. At the revue she wore a pink accordion-pleated frock designed and made by the Brooks Dressmaking Shop, Mrs. C. B. Brooks, the proprietor, being her grandmother.

Awarded Third Prize

The third prize was awarded Gordon Nelson Frazer, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Frazer of 633 North Maryland avenue, who was born in Glendale, June 28, 1918. He is a husky little fellow weighing 38 pounds. He has a smile for everyone and is most lovable.

The three prize-winning children are a credit to Glendale and the exposition will show its appreciation of them when they call at the Chamber of Commerce office Tuesday morning and the prizes are awarded them.

ANSON PITCHER IS BACK

Anson Pitcher, former Glendale resident and high school student, is busy greeting his many local friends after an absence of three years, during which time he has been serving in the air service of the United States army. He was discharged from the Sixth Observation Squadron at Honolulu several weeks ago and arrived in Glendale on Wednesday of this week. Mr. Pitcher, who is staying with his mother, Mrs. S. Pitcher of 724 South Maryland avenue, will enjoy a several days' rest, after which he expects to again join the ranks of the civilian business men.

BACK FROM MOTOR TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Van Osdoll of 131 South Belmont street and Mr. and Mrs. John Cooper of 607 North Isabel street returned yesterday from a motor trip to Santa Barbara of several days. While in that city they visited Mr. and Mrs. Loomer, formerly of Exeter. The Van Osdolls, Coopers and Loomers were former neighbors in Chicago a few years ago. A visit through the Mission was very much enjoyed. While there they met Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bott of Glendale, who had motored up for the day. Another trip out from Santa Barbara which was very much enjoyed was to Montecito.

LEGION DELEGATES TELL ABOUT WORK OF CONVENTION

More Complete Report Will Be Made Soon; Concert Is Being Planned

The first regular meeting of the local Post of the American Legion since the recent state convention took place last night at the club rooms on East Broadway with an enthusiastic group of members present. Post Commander Emil Kiefer, Chaplain J. F. McBryde and C. T. Nowell, who were Glendale delegates to the convention, gave brief reports of the Yosemite trip, although the formal and complete report is to be read before the legionnaires in the near future.

Rev. R. W. Mottern, representing the Southern California committee of the Near East relief campaign, made a short talk telling of the conditions of the stricken countries, the scope of work now being accomplished by the relief workers and the tremendous construction program that the workers are confronting. He gave an outlined history of the devastated regions during the past five years, in which time he said that the population of Armenia has been reduced from 4,500,000 to but 2,000,000.

Much Good Being Done

In speaking of the good that is being done by the relief committee Rev. Mottern stated that at present there are 538 workers in the stricken districts, and that eleven rescue homes and sixty-three hospitals have been established.

Upon an unanimous decision the

PAJAMA PARADE AND NEGLIGEE DISPLAY CLOSING FEATURE AT EXPOSITION

Large Crowd Will Be Present to Participate In Big Program Tonight

PAJAMA PARADE tonight and negligee display—that is the big drawing card for the closing day of the Greater Glendale Merchants' Exposition.

It is almost an assured fact that papa, mamma and the rest of the family will be there this afternoon and evening for the capital prizes are to be given away, something worth while almost every hour from 1 o'clock on until midnight.

Anyone who has not seen the exposition should do so today. It has been a grand and glorious event for Glendale. It has given "home town" trade a stimulus quite unlooked for. And the programs presented by Director-General H. Elmo LaBreque have been all that were advertised.

James M. Rhoades, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, will speak tonight on co-operation and there will be plenty of music and merry-making to satisty all. Columns could be written telling about the show, but most everyone has seen it. There were close to 5,000 people packed in the big tent yesterday.

The hot dog vender made his appearance last night and many new features have been added to the displays. In other columns will be found accounts of the fashion revues, the baby show and the kiddies' parade.

The closing of this week of enjoyment will find the business men tired, but happy; the populace pleased that they are residents of Glendale and the officials of the Chamber of Commerce and Pacific Coast Exposition company satisfied that their efforts have succeeded wonderfully well.

Santa Ana and Huntington Park were among the many southern California cities represented at the exposition last night. This city is getting its share of publicity, the Los Angeles Evening Herald editorially complimenting the showing made here.

A new feature at the show is the Buick valve-in-head man. The trees and shrubs at the entrance of the big tent are from the Downing and Cox nurseries.

Roberts & Echols, the only drug store represented in the show, has a demonstration of Colonial Dames' toilet preparations.

Pictures are being painted by Alfred Peet, Australian artist, at the

I have just received a letter from the owner in his "mountain fastness" consenting to sell his wonderful corner, 100x160 to alley, on N. Brand, right where things are "POPPIN" at a price that whoever picks it up will make a nice piece of money by holding and improving.

This is just a gentle tip to those looking to get in "right" on Brand.

WHERE OUR WAGONS STOP REGULARLY

Perhaps you've noticed the difference in your neighborhood. A few years ago laundry wagons stopped regularly only at those homes where the man of the family was known as a "good dresser."

But today it's different—you'll find our wagons stopping at almost every home in the block.

That's because the modern housewife has learned to appropriate modern laundry service and is giving every member of her family the benefit of it.

Have your bundles ready for the Glendale Laundry Monday, as our drivers will pick up laundry on Labor Day the same as usual.

CHANGE IN VELIE AGENCY HERE IS MADE KNOWN

C. R. Anders and H. N. Halfhill In Charge; C. A. Wishart Has Battery Service

The Velie Glendale Motors announce that effective September 1, they have taken over the automobile business of C. A. Wishart & Son, former Velie dealers.

The new firm is composed of H. N. Halfhill and C. R. Anders, both of whom were connected with Mr. Wishart's sales department.

Both Mr. Halfhill and Mr. Anders have the benefit of long experience in the automobile industry in other parts of the country, and the keynote of the new firm's efforts will be to sell more Velie motor cars and trucks through the excellence of their service to present Velie owners.

Their slogan will be "Let Velie serve you now—for years and years we've practiced how."

The Velie X-ray car on display at the Velie booth in the Merchants' exposition is an unusually interesting exhibit, showing as it does the very sturdy construction of the car throughout.

Other agency contracts which Mr. Wishart controlled have been cancelled and the new firm will devote itself entirely to Velie cars and trucks.

C. A. Wishart & Son have recently opened the Westinghouse Battery Service Station at 233 South Brand, and will devote their efforts to this enterprise.

MAKES REPORT ON FUNDS AVAILABLE IN BOND ISSUE

Sum of $14,000 Remains From Water Projects; $4000 Is In Bonds to Be Sold

There remains of the $260,000 municipal bond issue the sum of $14,000. Of this, $4,000 is in unsold bonds. This was brought to the attention of the City Council Thursday night by T. W. Watson, retiring city manager. He reported as follows:

"Supplementing our report of August 25 setting forth expenditures to that date from $260,000 bond issue:

"This report included in addition to actual expenditures to that date amounts appropriated or estimated to be necessary to complete the construction works now under way with the exception of the cost of waterproofing the Verdugo Road reservoir and set forth that the total cost of these improvements would be $241,329.18, leaving a balance of $13,101.47; also stating that there are a number of minor items yet to be taken care of that would no doubt reduce this balance several hundred dollars. The estimated cost of the pipe line and weir was included in the cost of Verdugo Road reservoir as set forth in paragraph 6 of report of August 25.

Some Bonds Unsold

"In estimating, as set forth in the last paragraph of this report, that there would probably be about $10,000 of this bond issue available after the completion of the works under construction, we had in mind that there would be this amount available after the cost of waterproofing the Verdugo Road reservoir was taken care of. In addition to this $10,000 there is $4,000 of this bond issue unsold which would increase the amount available to $14,000.

"I would suggest that should your council decide to call for bids for the furnishing of cast iron pipe and fittings as suggested in our general report of August 25 that you make it clear to bidders that the remaining $4,000 of this bond issue must be sold before contracts will be awarded for the furnishing of pipe and fittings under such call."

FACTORY OF NASH CARS EFFICIENT AND ECONOMIC

E. B. Sutton Gives Reasons Why Quality Comes at Minimum Cost

"The Nash factory at Kenosha, Wis., where Nash Six passenger cars are built is notable for its size, completeness of equipment and high quality of its large production," says E. B. Sutton, of the Glendale Nash Sales, 207 North Brand boulevard.

"The factory site is one hundred and one acres in extent with thirty-three acres under roof. In foundry, machine shops and body building plant it is thoroughly modern in design and construction and ideally adapted to the carrying out of advanced Nash production practices. Its equipment comprises more than fourteen hundred productive machines, many of them especially built to Nash requirements.

"An idea of the efficiency of this machine equipment may be had from one of the specially built machines in one department. A battery of four-way drilling machines each drills seventy-eight holes in a cylinder block at one time, speeding up production and increasing its accuracy.

"So complete is the equipment of this factory that it builds Nash passenger cars almost entirely from their bearings to their beautiful bodies. Probably no other automobile factory builds the product bearing its name more nearly complete.

"These facts have a real significance to the automobile buyer. The size, completeness and efficiency of the Nash factory are directly reflected in the quality of the Nash Six and the value it represents at its price.

"Fifty thousand Nash Sixes are being manufactured this year—a volume production. This means that with Nash efficiency methods and this volume production manufacturing costs per car are kept at a minimum."

Shackleton Leaves on New Trip to Antarctic

LONDON—Amid the cheers of thousands of well-wishers lined along the Thames embankment, and the frantic tooting of ships' sirens, the aptly-named Quest, commanded by Sir Ernest Shackleton, has started on the first leg of a 30,000 mile voyage of discovery in the uncharted seas of the frozen south.

Romance and science is bound up in this new adventure in the Polar regions. The journey will take Sir Ernest 30,000 miles in the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, and in the uncharted seas of the South Pole. The explorers are making for the Enderby Quadrant, the Antarctic, south of South Africa. Some ninety years have passed since a ship was in these waters.

The Quest will also search for the lost Pacific island of Tunaki, mentioned in missionary history and native legend, but never seen; in search also for secret seas, whose existence is believed but not proved.

The ship is barely 200 tons net. Her length is 111 feet, and depth 12 feet. Her sides are two feet thick of oak, pine and fir, and her bows are shod with steel. A remarkable feature of the expedition will be the vessel's lack of a crew—a crew, that is, distinct from the scientific works. The staff of the expedition will manage the ship themselves.

The British admiralty has lent an oceanographical equipment, and the air ministry has lent two officers who will do kite and balloon work. Sounding platforms have been built on the vessel, which will enable the scientific staff to sound the ocean to a depth of six miles, half a mile more than has ever been done before.

A proposition is on foot to move a large part of the Missouri river from its present bed and send the big stream 400 miles west of its present location alongside the Black Hills and through western Nebraska and Kansas, emptying it into the Arkansas river near Garden City, Kan. One hundred and sixty billion acres of land which today are practically worthless would be irrigated. The regular flow of the present river would not be disturbed, since only the flood waters will be utilized.

MAY BECOME GOLD MINE

SAN FRANCISCO—San Francisco's Hetch Hetchy water system may turn out to be a gold mine, according to Assistant City Engineer Enchart. The city is building many miles of tunnels on the Hetch Hetchy project. These tunnels go through the old Mother Lode country. It is not impossible, says Enchart; that the city might run onto a fine vein of gold somewhere in its tunneling, as quartz has already been uncovered showing minor traces of gold.

The best chance of finding gold in Hetch Hetchy lies in the district between Priest and Big Creek. The greatest depth in this locality is 750 feet. The tunneling does not tap a section of the country which has been extensively mined. Besides the actual discovery of gold, if it were there, a good deal of the dust would be carried into the water systems, Enchart says.

"There'd be no chance, however, of a man turning on a tap and panning out a dollar or so before breakfast," Enchart added. "We'd take it all out in the filtering system."

The World Today

BY D. H. SMITH
Manager, Brand Blvd. Branch Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank

The banks and many of the business houses of Glendale are closed Monday in commemoration of Labor Day. This day is set apart as a legal holiday in all the states of the union, except Maryland and Wyoming, in which States it is customarily celebrated or observed by proclamation. Other sections of the country other than states where the exception is effective are Alaska and the District of Columbia.

The history of Labor Day is interesting. In 1882 the Knights of Labor held their general assembly in New York City during the month of September, and on the fifth a great parade was organized by the Central Labor Union of that city. The next year a parade was held on the first Monday in September, and in 1884, on the resolution of George R. Lloyd, one of the Knights of Labor, it was decided that all future parades of this kind should be held on that day, and that the day should be known as Labor Day.

Workingmen's organizations all over the country then began a campaign to induce the state legislature to declare the day a legal holiday, and on March 15, 1887, Colorado enacted a law to that effect and was followed by New Jersey, New York and Massachusetts. As other states enacted such a law, the majority selected the first Monday in September as Labor Day.

In Europe labor organizations celebrate the first of May. This custom started in 1890. At first it was opposed on account of rioting and disturbances that often attended it. The world war diverted the attention of the labor element of European countries generally during the great conflict, and since the armistice there have been no very serious May Day troubles. While there have been but two such celebrations since the armistice, it is possibly too early to tell whether readjustment conditions in foreign countries will result in peaceful celebrations such as take place in the United States.

During the Middle Ages holidays became so numerous in many parts of Europe as to interfere seriously with industrial pursuits. One of the most important results of the religious reformation of the sixteenth century was the abolition of excessive holidays with its subsequent increase in the volume of secular labor.

There are no national holidays in the United States. The power to create such holidays rests with Congress. The Federal Congress, however, has at various times designated special holidays. Sundays, certain fast days and Saturdays after 12 o'clock are now legal holidays in all States where they are so designated by act of the Legislature.

A legal holiday is a day other than Sunday, which so far as business of many kinds is concerned, has legally the same status as that of Sunday. Upon a legal holiday, such as today, notes may not be collected. Banks and all public offices are closed. Practically no public business is carried on except that of public service corporations or organizations which operate for the pleasure, entertainment or service of the people at large.

In every State in the Union when a legal holiday falls on Sunday the next day is set aside in its stead, except in Louisiana, which State observes the same day, and in Washington, which observes the day preceding. Sunday, Christmas and July 4 are legal holidays throughout the entire nation. Each State makes its own laws in regard to holidays. In many States notes or other negotiable papers due on a legal holiday are payable the day following.

In considering Labor Day so far as the United States is concerned, it is not surprising that the observation of the day is unattended by rioting and strife. This is, of course, attributable to the fact that this great Republic is a free country. There is no class distinction. Every citizen, of every creed, birth or station in life, has equal opportunity under the law. There is absolute freedom of belief, speech and of the press. This naturally brings about an enlightened people, carrying on the nation's business in an enlightened way.

The man or woman who labors in the factory or office or on the land has in practically every instance learned well the lesson of thrift and contentment. With industrial and social conditions upset with strife, there would be chaos. Consequently it is not surprising that the savings banks of the nation reflect the thrifty and contented condition of the American people.

It is a striking fact that the savings deposits of the American people in 1920 totalled $1,349,625,000, an average per depositor of $680.86. This was an increase over the previous year when the deposits were $1,151,464,000 and the average $463.16. These figures are from the last report of the Comptroller of the Currency.

It is not difficult to become a saver. One dollar opens a term savings account at the Brand Boulevard Branch or the Glendale Avenue Branch of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank. On deposits remaining six months or more, 4 per cent is paid from date of deposit, credited January 1 and July 1.

Within twenty minutes after a crime is committed in Pittsburg, the police throughout the United States and Canada will have news of the deed and descriptions of the criminals. The Pittsburg police department has made arrangements for a powerful transmitting "set," and by flashing the details of crimes to the authorities of other cities they hope to capture many fugitives who might otherwise escape.

As a means of checking up on speeders, a device has been invented by a Los Angeles man which consists of an attachment secured to the front of the car, which is supplied with three lights. When running slowly, a white light shows, which continues until the rate passes the limit of the city ordinance, when a green light comes on, showing that the country rate is being used. A red light indicates the next rate of speed.

Some Impressions of Paris In 1921 Given by Wife of Banker

By CLARENCE AXMAN
Written for The United Press

PARIS—"Paris is gay again; yes, monsieur, but it is not the Paris of before the war," said the wife of the Boulevard des Italiens banker.

"The crowds flocking to the modistes, and jewelry shops of the Rue de la Paix are not the aristocratic set seen there a few years ago, but are the bourgeois of Lyon, Marseilles and other places in the provinces, new rich, who made tremendous fortunes in the war."

And yet to the visiting American, Paris is the same old playground of the world that it was in the old days. Nothing is permitted officially to jar one seeing Paris on parade. Even the beggar is barred from the boulevards.

Out on the Bois in the afternoon the tea places are crowded as never before. American tunes and American bands, and wiggling, twisting and turning that must have come via the Argentine. A couple reaches a spot on the floor and five minutes later they have not progressed more than ten feet. The women are wonderfully dressed, with the smartest of hats, bracelets about their ankles, and dresses which would make Ziegfeld weep with envy.

He Expects to Get Tip

Many of the men dancing are gigelots—professional tango lizards—with spats, sharply-creased trousers, colored waistcoats and Picadilly morning coats. They are the professional hangers-on. A gigelot approaches the wife of the American when she skips a dance, and asks if he can have the next. At its finish he expects a few francs.

A few months ago a story was printed in American papers that a French government official had decreed that women in French revues should wear more clothes. Probably he is on a vacation, because in two revues the entire apparel of the chorus could be placed in a tiny pocketbook. This sort of thing quickly palls on the American. In the case of revues, it is, see one, see all.

Paris is filled with Russian actors, Russian dancers, Russian singers, Russian noblemen and Russian radicals. The Russian vaudeville show at the Femina theater is the best on the continent, and has taken Paris by storm, the great hit being the march of the "Wooden Soldiers." It is coming to Broadway next season.

'DEAR KATIE' GETS FED UP ON PRUNE CONVERSATION

Strivin' Reporter Spills Lot of Juice—Prune Juice—In Letter and In Po-hem

Glendale, Sept. 3, 1921.

Dear Katie:—Tonight the Merchants' Exposition of Glendale is goin' to come to a close up and the big show is goin' down into ancient history as the best, biggest and most beautiful show which has ever come to the Jewel City. So today I will write you one more little artikle about what I seen as a strivin' reporter, over at the big tent durin' the last couple days.

This here artikle Katie, is goin' to be about the Sunsweet prunes, which the same has been displayed at the big show durin' the past week for the natives to look at, which they did with mingled curiosity of awe and admiration.

And right now Katie I want to say as how there is more ways to eat prunes than there is for a baby to use a toy hatchet.

Forty-two kids in a pie eatin' contest, which the same was entitled "How to eat prunes in one lesson," was the cause of the disturbance, that resulted in a pleasant time bein' had by the mobs of spectators.

Each and every one of them there kids which was lined up on that there elevated sidewalk, looked and acted like they had just been imported from starvin' Russia for the occasion.

Well Katie, every kid had a Sunsweet prune pie of his own and all to once Mr. LaBreque give a signal and right away them 42 kids buried their faces into them prune pies, the way like a ostrich buries its head in the sand.

Oh, yes! They hated It!

My dear, you should of seen 'em. Those kids seemed to hate prune pie, the way elephants hate peanuts.

In two minutes, every one of them kids was swathed, bandaged and garnished with prune pie from their eye brows to their shoe tops.

They all seemed to act like they had lost all sense of eiqette and the expressions of simple and serious disgust on them kid's faces, mingled with prune juice, was awful comical and the big mobs of people hollered and screamed with joyous laughter till the tears run down their backs.

Well Katie, the first three kids to finish their pies, won the cash prizes and all the losers got a can of Sunsweet prunes. And after it was all over, there wasn't a kid in the bunch that looked a bit hungry.

Well Katie, prune pie contests is one thing and the rest of this here artikle is another.

It might be as how prunes is nourishin' and strengthenin', but as far as that goes, so is a hair tonic.

Maybe to eat prune pie is just a innocent pastime in itself, but while Merchants' Expositions may come and go, mere prunes will last forever.

Well Katie, here is how it come about. A few days ago, our grocer man brought a whole load of prunes to our house and left 'em in our wood shed and the way I've had to eat prunes since last Tuesday would make a gopher commit suicide outa pure envy.

Try It on your Piano

So today I have wrote a little poem, which the same is entitled "Who throwed the prunes in the garbage can?" and what of it.

For breakfast I have some prune bread and prune cake,
With stewed prunes or prunes that are dried.
For dinner I get raw prunes and prune pie,
With a dish of plain prunes on the side.

For four o'clock tea I have prune duff and prune juice,
With a few stuffed prunes for desert.
And I'm beginnin' to feel, so stuffed fulla prunes,
That my pride is beginnin' to hurt.

3.
For supper I have some prune marmalade,
With prune whip that's whipped to a finish.
But in spite of the prunes that I've mashed up and ate,
The darn things don't seem to diminish.

For a late evenin' lunch, I have pitted prunes for a change,
Which are pitted by hand—,so 'tis said.
But I've been athinkin' as how prunes don't need pity,
But I should be pitied instead.

Well Katie, maybe its' prune juice for health, and fig leaves for fashion, but anyhow I'm too fulla prunes to write anymore today.

Hopin' you are the same
I'm Yours or nobodys
E. C. HALE.

Cossack Rebellion Expected In Russia to Restore Kerensky

BY EDWIN HULLINGER
United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS—The Cossacks of southern Russia are re-combining against the Bolsheviks, according to a report by M. Kharlamoff, member of the Russion revolutionary constituent assembly, before the constituent in Paris.

Cossack leaders of the Don, Kouban and Terek regions, the most powerful of the horsemen tribes, recently formed what they call the "United Council," and have set up a central executive administration or government. The council has an active office in Constantinople, publishes a newspaper for the benefit of Russian refugees there, and has aligned itself alongside the revolutionary constituent.

This latter is significant in view of the fact that the Cossacks formerly supported Denikine and Wrangel and other so-called reactionary leaders of whom the constituent had little sympathy. It indicates a tendency, which has recently been reported from other quarters, among Russian anti-Bolshevik elements to swing back toward Kerensky and the leadership of the social revolutionary party which engineered the revolution of March, 1917.

Kharlamoff also reported intense suffering among the remnants of Wrangel's army, a large proportion of whom are living in Constantinople midst greatest misery.

The American Red Cross has prevented thousands from starving, doling out supplies and clothing. It has also "staked" a number of the more intelligent refugees to the extent of four or five lires. With this "capital" many of the latter have started a tiny business of some kind and are eking out a small living.

HAWAII TALKS MANY TONGUES

Sixty-eight different languages and dialects are used over the telephone lines of Honolulu, according to evidence at the public utilities commission hearing on the Mutual Telephone company's application to increase its rates recently. The list of tongues representing the cosmopolitan conversations of the island include eleven separate national languages, forty-nine Japanese dialects, seven Chinese dialects—and English. The telephone officials protested they were unable to check the number of business calls separate from social calls because of the babel of tongues.

CARFARE AND INTEREST

The story goes that Johns Hopkins, the founder of the university that bears his name, was accustomed even when of venerable years and more or less infirm of body to walk to his office. Questioned by a friend as to why he did this, he replied: "I never forget that a carfare represents an entire year's interest on a dollar. The interest on a dollar is worth saving."

A 9-year-old girl recently fell off a station platform in front of an elevated train in Brooklyn. In falling, she missed the approaching train, dropped between the rim of the platform and the track, glanced off an electric feed wire and landed on the street thirty-five feet below. She faced death three times and escaped with scratches.

BUICK BEAUTY

The new Buick is certainly easy to look at. Its sweeping stream lines attract favorable attention wherever seen. And because women love beautiful things and try to surround themselves with things of beauty and good taste, watch the number of women at the wheel of the new Buick. Both open and closed models are prime favorites, not only for their ease of operation, but because to drive a new Buick is to feel a real pride of ownership.

MIND READING AT GLENDALE AGAIN THIS EVENING

Mental Telepathy, Musical Act, Dancing, Acrobats and Soloist on Bill

When Aleko, Presco and Panthea, the great Grecian mental telepathists were the star attraction at the Glendale Theatre last Saturday, many people failed to get the opportunity of asking these psychic exponents important questions. For this reason Meiklejohn & Dunn are returning this great act in today's program at the Glendale. The crowds today will be counted in thousands, it is believed.

Musical Walsh is another headliner among the five acts, his forte being eight different instruments including several novelties. Dexter and Phillips, two clever kiddies who know how to dance delightfully, do a "big circuit" number that is bound to go over big while the Kinkoes, recently with Barnum & Bailey's circus, are acrobats and contortionists worth watching.

Then there is Lady Lo Wah, the Chinese nightingale whose voice and wardrobe, too, are worth a fortune. She has been singing at Grauman's after touring the country.

No more diverse bill has been offered here at regular prices and the evening's entertainment will include the comedy drama picture, "Hearts and Masks," with Elinor Field. Tomorrow and Monday Lew Cody stars in "A Dangerous Pastime." Other members including an overture by Madame Clement at the organ are included on the program.

SHELL-CRACKING BIRD

Certain species of birds which inhabit eastern Africa possess the largest and strongest beaks known to ornithologists. One of these is the open-bill or shell ibis. It is a long-legged, stork-like bird, which has a beak like a nut-cracker. The parts of the bill cannot be closed in the middle. It eats frogs and fishes, but its favorite food is fresh water molluscs, the shells of which it can crush with the powerful beak.

The Germans are now working hard. This will solve all their problems. Try it on your own problems.

Spanish Homes at Verdugo Woodlands

Up in the cool, green Verdugo hills of GLENDALE

—the most rapidly growing city on the Pacific Coast, a beautiful home commanding an unobstructed view of picturesque Verdugo Woodlands, constructed by our Building Department from honest materials. Compare these values with anything in or near Los Angeles.

Verdugo Woodlands seems to include everything worth while in outdoor California.

All the beauties and charms of mountains, foothills, canyons and running streams; grand old trees are here in profusion. This wooded fairy land is rich in romance and historic value. This is the place of places, cherished by the old pioneer Verdugo family and the original Adobe Home is still being preserved.

This environment is imminently connected with the early history of Southern California and for many years it was the favorite woodland retreat of the Pueblo of Los Angeles.

While a fortune has been expended for improvements and many beautiful homes adorn the crests, knolls and hillsides, the original natural beauty has been kept intact.

There is nothing hard nor formal in the whole scheme. The entire place is just as nature wrought it and it will ever be so.

Other special features are 1100 ft. elevation; pure, clear, invigorating, foothill air; soft water from mountain streams; fogless, dustless, smokeless days; beautiful boulevards; excellent car service; 35 minutes from Los Angeles and 5 minutes from Glendale business section, schools, churches, theatres, etc.

Let us send you full information regarding this wonderful spot or see our booth at the Glendale Business Men's Exposition this week.

'DREAM STREET' BY GRIFFITH ENDS RUN TONIGHT

Palace Grand Offers 'Conquest of Canaan' as Sunday and Monday Feature

"Dream Street," David Wark Griffith's latest production closes a successful run at the Palace Grand this evening. In face of extraordinary competition in the way of the Greater Glendale exposition it has enthused all who have seen it.

The picture is a dramatic comedy and deals with the interesting and picturesque lives of characters out of two of Thomas Burke's Limehouse stories, published under the titles of "Gina of Chinatown" and "The Sign of the Lamp." While the locale is laid in London town, on High and Poplar streets, the little people are everywhere on our tiny planet. They are the poetic dreamers of life who look through wistful, hazy windows or walk upon the street of dreams.

In "The Conquest of Canaan," Paramount's picturization of Booth Tarkington's celebrated novel of the name, which will be shown at the Palace Grand theatre Sunday and Monday, Thomas Meighan, the star has an opportunity for some of the best work of his motion picture career. As "Joe Louden" Mr. Meighan plays the part of the ostracized youth —a member of the so-called "other half" in Canaan, a typical middle western town with its provincial likes and dislikes and its "society."

Other numbers of interest are on both programs and Henri Monette plays the Wurlitzer.

Resent Lord Algie as Indicated Upon Screen

BY CHARLES M'CANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON—England at present is the world's battleground for movie magnates.

So far, the United States producers are easy victors. But ever since the end of the war, European producers have been hammering at the American lines. Now, the British producers themselves have entered the field strongly.

America's start in the picture industry, the amount of money spent on films and the excellence of the photography are helping Americans to keep down European competitors.

American moving picture directors, however, despite their lovely names, pretty faces and flowing neckties, are doing all they can to crab the American game. For years, because of the lack of serious effort over here to go into the movie-exporting game, British movie patrons have squirmed as young Lord Algie, clad in a slightly too small pinch-back Kute-Kut suit, bounced down the ancestral stairs and, cigaret dangling lightly from his lips, blew smoke in pater's face and remarked how bloomin' hot it was.

The British movie patrons are still squirming; but they don't have to, and if daily attacks in the newspapers on this type of American film are an indication, they won't last very long. British, French, Italian and Scandinavian and—as soon as the slight remaining haze of smoke from the late war blows away, German—film producers are trying to wean the British public from the American films. They haven't reached the American standard of mechanical production, but they do know a lot of things that will go far to help them in their fight.

They know that the young Lord Algie doesn't wear a Kute-Kut suit; that neither his valet nor the man who carts away the family ashes would wear one as a gift; that young Lord Algie doesn't have his hair marcelled or spring about the great hall among the tons of furniture the British public would have been taught, if it could be, are always in great halls; that when he is talking to the girls among the week-end party he doesn't always stand with his hands in his coat pockets and his legs spread apart; that he doesn't talk either to men or women with a cigaret—or a pipe—in his mouth; that he may get by with "damn" or "hell"; that he doesn't say "pater"; and that there isn't much more than one chance in a thousand that his name will be Algie or Algernon.

DOCUMENT OF EARLY CHURCH

The "Didache, or Teaching of the Twelve Apostles," was a didactic work for use in the early church. It was discovered by Bryennius at Constantinople and published in 1883. It had been written in Greek, about 1056 A. D. It is of great value for the study of organization, belief and worship of the early church and was held in high esteem. In it is a description of the two ways—of life and death—in the form of rules for Christian conduct.

BOON TO THE ARMLESS

An English machine for the use of armless men consists of a table under which are pegs worked by the toes. The pegs are connected with artificial "arms" above the table, which do almost everything that can be done by human arms. Thus the patient can use a spoon, knife and fork, drink from a cup, pick a cigarette, typewrite, turn the leaves of a book, play checkers, wash and dry his face and neck, etc.

"Billy" Phelon Is Winner Of Bicycle From Evening News

Meet "Billy" Phelon, who is now the proud owner of a bicycle, awarded him by The Glendale Evening News for his efforts in securing subscriptions. He is only 12 years old, but he's a go-getter and a mighty fine lad.

"Billy" Phelon is the latest to win a $65 Harley-Davidson bicycle in The Glendale Evening News subscription club. Although only 12 years old this lad succeeded in getting the required number of new yearly subscriptions in twenty working days. In other words he averaged a year a day, which is doing pretty fine for such a little fellow.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Phelon, his parents, who reside at 216 East Windsor road, gave him nothing but good advice and let the boy work out the problem of winning the prize considers the best bicycle in town.

Woman Crosses Ocean In Yacht of 21 Tons

BY ALFRED J. WEST
United Press Staff Correspondent

COWES, Isle of Wight—It was love of adventure on the high seas and the determination to share the discomforts and perils of her husband that prompted Mrs. Kelley, wife of John B. Kelley, of New York, to accompany him on a voyage from New London, Conn., to Cowes in the twenty-one-ton auxiliary motor schooner Diablesse, which made the trip in thirty-three days.

It is doubtful whether any woman has ventured to cross the Atlantic in such a tiny craft as Diablesse, which, lying at moorings near the Fountain Pier, proudly flying the Stars and Stripes at the stern, has been the cynosure of all the eyes of yachting people and the mariners who have a great admiration for the adventurous spirits of the sea.

Mrs. Kelley, a frail, handsome, little woman of girlish appearance and extremely retiring disposition, said in an interview that she not only enjoyed the trip, but was absolutely comfortable all the time.

"I did all the cooking and things of that sort," she said. "That was, at times, a bit difficult, because after a storm—and we had ten days of gale to start with—the crew would come down below drenched, very cold and hungry, and I had to provide them with food and dry their clothes.

Says She Loves Sea

"I used coal for the stove, and frequently the seas would break over us and put out the fire and sweep everything away.

"It was quite exciting at times, but how I enjoyed it; and when we sighted land, for which I was sorry, I wanted to turn back and have it all over again.

"I simply love the sea. I took my turn at the wheel while the men attended to the sails in the stormy weather. I have never been seasick and the voyage has done me a world of good.

"I made my first trip across the Atlantic when a girl of nine, and have been across in steamers several times since, staying in London and Scotland.

"It is a lovely life cruising at sea. You feel as if you are in a kingdom of your own, and nothing to worry about as long as the boat keeps afloat."

Mr. and Mrs. Kelley made the trip across specially to see the yacht races for the British-America cup and to attend the famous Cowes regatta.

CONSCIENCE

That uncomfortable possession, a conscience, holds us back from many a coveted delight, saves us from many a sin, and drives us in many a path we would never be good enough or unselfish enough to take if only its chiding voice would let us alone. We give ourselves too much credit for our good behavior when we forget that our upbringing has brought into our house of life a personality we cannot disobey if we would live at peace.

A sick soldier was carried by air ambulance from Forks, in the Olympic peninsula of Washington, to Camp Lewis for treatment, in one day. The aviator traveled above a cloud blanket on a course of 150 miles, on a day too cloudy for flying over the forests with safety.

THE MODERN STANDARD

"Some of us," said Bishop Mitchell at a St. Paul missionary meeting, "are prone to judge everything by the money standard. A book is no good unless it's a best seller. An artist is no good unless he's getting rich. When we judge things that way we're as bad as little Samuel. Little Samuel went out one day to buy his brother a birthday present. He bought a jar of goldfish. 'Gold-fish! Don't it sound rich?' he said to his father on his return. And he carried the goldfish gayly upstairs to his room. But a half hour later he rushed down to his father again. 'Father,' he groaned, 'we've been stung. Them ain't gold. They wouldn't stand the acid.'"

NOT APPRECIATED

A motorist lay in the mud under his car, mending, with grunts of pain and effort, a bad break in the works.

When he at last crawled forth, all black and greasy, his friend approached him with the oil can.

"While you were busy under there," said the friend, smiling blandly, "I, too, made myself useful. I gave the cylinder a thorough oiling."

"Cylinder be hanged!" growled the motorist. "It was my ear you oiled."

PRUNES AND DRIED APRICOTS PLACED IN PROMINENCE

Both Fruits Are In Demand as Grocery Staples Result of Direct Campaign

"California prunes and dried apricots have won for themselves an important place among grocery staples during the past four years as a direct result of the progressive merchandising and advertising campaigns for these fruits which have been conducted by the California Prune and Apricot Growers, Inc.," said A. A. Higgins.

"As brokers for the California Prune and Apricot Growers, Inc., in the Los Angeles distributing territory the Cobb-Leary Brokerage company has done its share to popularize these two fruits, and particularly the top quality pack of California prunes and dried apricots put up exclusively by the California Prune and Apricot Growers, Inc., under the brand name Sunsweet.

"The Cobb-Leary Brokerage company by consistent salesmanship and by up-to-date selling methods has taught hundreds of wholesale and retail grocers in Los Angeles and the suburban territory how they could boost their dried fruit profits by following up the intensive advertising drives and window display contests put on by the California Prune and Apricot Growers, Inc., for the grocers' benefit.

All Is Guaranteed

"The Sunsweet brand of prunes and dried apricots are packed in several different ways, but all fruit put out under this brand is guaranteed to be the top quality California fruit, carefully selected by experts when it is delivered by the growers to the packing houses.

"The California Prune and Apricot Growers, Inc., exclusive packers of Sunsweet prunes and dried apricots, is a growers' co-operative marketing association composed of more than 10,000 California prune and apricot growers who sell their entire crop through the organization. The association was founded May 1, 1917, to provide a more satisfactory selling system for the California prune and dried apricot crops than the one under which the pack has been sold for fifty years previous to that date.

"Among the things the association set out to do upon its organization was to establish a uniform standard of pack for the best grade California prunes and dried apricots, to stabilize markets and prevent as far as possible speculation in these fruits; to increase consumer demand by educational campaigns and advertising, and to develop new markets, both domestic and foreign.

"The association is unique in that it does not make a cent profit for itself. It is a marketing agency pure and simple, owned and controlled entirely by the individual fruith growers who make up its membership.

"The association, under its membership agreements, takes the dried and cured fruit delivered to it by its grower members, grades and packs it, and sells it in the markets of the world in open competition with private firms. Every cent the association receives for the fruit it returns to the growers, less the actual packing and operating expenses.

"The California Prune and Apricot Growers, Inc., now market 80 per cent of all the prunes and dried apricots produced in California, which state grows all the apricots and 90 per cent of the prunes eaten in the United States."

THIRTEEN MEMBERS OF GIRL SCOUTS ARE INITIATED

Charles L. Chandler Home Is Scene of Meeting; Four More Needed on List

The regular meeting of the Girl Scouts of America was held yesterday afternoon at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Chandler on La Canada boulevard. The purpose of the meeting was to initiate the thirteen girls who had passed the test after a month's study.

The first event of the afternoon was a mock initiation in the form of a mock trial. Miss Margaret Longley acted as prosecuting attorney and Miss Cecil Chase as attorney for the defendant. After the trial they had the formal initiation ceremony called the "investiture," which is the regular girl scout ceremony for initiating. The new girls received their tenderfoot pins after which a business meeting was held.

After the business meeting a delicious picnic supper was served, which had been prepared by the girls of the troop. Tables were set on the pretty green lawn under the trees.

Here Are New Members

The hostess, Mrs. Chandler, was assisted by Mrs. A. S. Chase, Mrs. E. T. Allen and Mrs. R. M. Brown. There were twenty-eight girls present in all. The new members who were initiated are the Misses Tamson Johnson, Charlotte Cleveland, Frances Betz, Lois Naudain, Katherine Render, Bertha rBown, Carrol Ayars, Lucille Beach, Frederica Brown, Beryl Goodale, Alice Carpenter, Charlotte Blakney and Alexandria Bagley. The older members of the troop are the Misses Mary Stanley, secretary; Lucille Allen, treasurer; Margaret Longley, Cecil Chase, Evelyn Traver, Winifred Parker, patrol leaders; Ruth Stofft, Dorothy Houston, Ruth Dana, Evalyn Hunt, Lina Borthick, Amy Bainbridge, Margaret Brown, Sarah Chandler and Careta Walker.

The girls wore the regular girl scout uniform which is a white middy and skirt with a black tie. The insignias and badges to show their rank are worn on the sleeve.

There should be thirty-two girls to make a complete troop and at present there are twenty-eight, but it is hoped that within the next few weeks the troop will become complete.

CHEVROLETS SHOW ECONOMY IN TEST RUN

'Four-Ninety' Does 36 1-2 Miles on Gallon of Gasoline at Seattle, Wash.

In a recent test to show the effect of careful driving on gasoline consumption a Chevrolet "Four-Ninety" touring car established the record rate of 36½ miles to the gallon. All five Chevrolet cars used averaged 33½ miles.

The conditions of this test will interest every automobile owner. For economy is the greatest factor in motor transportation. And it means a great deal to know that the expense of operation is entirely within the driver's control.

It was to prove this point that the test made in Seattle, Washington, was undertaken. Chevrolet "Four-Ninety" cars were chosen because they are so widely used and because practically everyone is familiar with the fact that between twenty and twenty-five miles to the gallon is their usual average.

Accompanied By Observer

The rules forbade any change other than carburetor adjsutments and a careful inspection was made at the start to make certain that each car was in standard condition The route, 15½ miles long, was carefully chosen to include as nearly as possible the average conditions of daily travel, hills, city traffic and country roads. There was no limit. And each driver was accompanied by an impartial observer.

At the start each gasoline tank was filled to overflowing. When the cars arrived at the finish each tank was again filled to the brim from an accurate one gallon measure and the balance poured from the measure into equal half-gallon glass jars.

By measuring the quantity in the latter it was found that the winning "Four-Ninety" had used slightly less than a half a gallon, or at the exact rate of 36½ miles to the gallon of gasoline!

Dictaphones in the jungles of Central Africa aid the missionaries correctly to reduce the native dialects to writing. An important aspect of the missionary work in the different parts of the dark continent is the correlating of the speech of the bush natives into an organized grammar which can be expressed in chirographic symbols.

No More Moving Vans for the Home Owner
If everyone religiously adopted the "Own Your Home" slogan there would be no official moving days, nor excuses for moving vans and the like. Vans would be as obsolete as the horse driven street cars.
For once in your own home you would never move therefrom. Why pay exhorbitant moving bills every year or other year, just because you're forced to do so by the dictates of a profiteering landlord?
With lowered costs of material and labor now in effect let us show you the wisdom of owning your home right now.

GLENDALE GIRL IS MARRIED; SERVICE HELD IN CHURCH

Miss Eileen Sullivan Bride of Francis Gordon; Leave for Catalina Island

The marriage of Miss Eileen Sullivan, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Sullivan of 711 South Central avenue, was solmenized this morning when she became the bride of Francis Gordon of Hollywood, the ceremony taking place at St. Paul's pro-cathedral on South Olive street, Los Angeles, at 8 o'clock, Rev. Boddington officiating.

Miss Sullivan was attired in a modish gown of dark blue canton crepe, hand embroidered in deep red, and wore a large hat of blue panne velvet with red underfacing and trimmed with red poppies and cherries. She carried a shower bouquet of Hoosier Beauty buds and lilies of the valley.

Miss Yates Bridesmaid

Miss Isabel Yates acted as bridesmaid. She wore a very smart kings blue silk georgette gown, with accordian pleated skirt and black picture hat with white plume. She carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas and fern.

Frank Littell, cousin of the bridegroom, acted as best man.

Mrs. R. W. Sullivan wore a grey corded silk dress of crepe faille, embroidered in grey.

Only immediate relatives and intimate friends of the young couple witnessed the ceremony, the ring service being used. The wedding ring was a most exquisite diamond circlet. The bride was given in marriage by her father, R. W. Sullivan.

Owing to the fact that Mrs. Sullivan, mother of the bride, has been seriously ill, no music or elaborate church decorations were planned, the affair being quite smple, but one of the prettiest of the mid-summer season.

Leave for Catilina

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon left immediately after the ceremony for Catalina Island. They will spend their honeymoon at that place, Santa Barbara and other points, and expect to be gone about two weeks, after which they will return to Los Angeles, where they will make their home.

Mrs. Gordon has been a resident of Glendale for the past three years, coming here from Olean, N. Y., where she was born. She has been employed as bookkeeper with the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber company for some time. Mrs. Gordon has been a valued worker in St. Marks' Episcopal church during her residence in this city and was a member of the choir and of the Girls' Friendly Society.

Both Well Known

Mr. Gordon has resided in Southern California for three years, coming here from Pittsburgh, Pa. Until moving to Hollywood about a year ago he made Glendale his home and both he and Mrs. Gordon have been very popular in the social circles of this city. Mr. Gordon is a graduate of Pittsburgh high school and Pittsburgh College, and holds the position of assistant secretary-treasurer of the Forest Lawn Memorial Park association.

Mrs. Gordon, because of her charming personality, has made a host of friends in this city, as was evidenced by the number of showers given in her honor before her marriage.

TOO MUCH POETIC LICENSE

Yesterday everything had been happy. Tonight they sat at the extreme ends of the sofa, in unbroken silence.

Harold could not fathom the cause. Had he not written a poem in her honor?

"Mr. Holt," said Ethel at length, "do you know that the feet of the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor, measure 16 feet, 5 inches?"

"So I have heard."

"The waist is 35 feet round," she continued giving him an icy stare. "The nose is feet 6 inches long; the mouth is a yard across, the thickness of the head is 10 feet. Did you know these facts?"

"Y-yes."

"Then will you kindly explain," she demanded frigidly, "Why you state in your poem that I remind you of the Statue of Liberty?"

WHO CARES FOR EXPENSES

Max Pemberton told a good story recently concerning a certain brother of the pen and newly made war millionaire with more money than breeding.

"My author friend," said Pemberton, "was one of the guests at a dinner which this millionaire gave. The host was a free spender, but he wanted full credit for every cent expended, and as the dinner progressed, he told his guests what the more expensive dishes cost. He dwelt especially on the expense of some large and beautiful grapes, each bunch a foot long. The guests looked annoyed. They ate the expensive grapes charily. But the novelist, similing, extended his plate, and said:

"'Would you mind cutting me off about $5 worth more, please?"'

MR. CRAWFORD'S LATE HOURS

Landlady—"Well, Mr. Crawford lives here, but I thought he was a night watchman."

LEGION DELEGATES TELL ABOUT WORK OF CONVENTION

More Complete Report Will Be Made Soon; Concert Is Being Planned

members of the Legion voted to subscribe to one of the "life books" which will take care of an orphan child for one year. Five other similar pledges were taken out by various members of the Post.

Commander Kiefer announced that several of the parchments, entitled "Memorial and Recognition of Service," which were given to all Glendale service men following the World War by the city officials, had not yet been received by several of the veterans. They are now being held by the American Legion.

Tribute to Heroes

Announcement was also made that a memorial tablet is now being prepared by the Post to contain the names of all of Glendale's fallen heroes. The tablet, which is to be electrically equipped, will be placed in a conspicuous place in the Post hall in the near future.

Keaumoku A. Louis, the talented Glendale musician who is also a member of the American Legion, offered to conduct his All-Hawaiian concert in this city in the near future for the benefit of the local ex-service men's organization. His offer was accepted by the legionnaires, and a special meeting of the executive committee was called for next Wednesday night for the making of plans for the entertainment. Mr. Louis is a pupil and associate singer of Constantino, the opera star. Recently he gave a similar concert at Long Beach, many people having been turned away at each of the two performances.

A. G. Wheelon, who is the local representative for "The Spirit of the American Doughboy," the official American Legion statue of the country, made a short talk regarding the emblem. He announced that five per cent of the sales is to be turned over to the sick fund of the Glendale Post.

Sports, Bathing Suits

Friday night's fashion revue featured the smartest of sports clothes and was followed by a display of the prettiest things to be found in bathing suits.

The sports clothes were furnished by Hatz Shop and worn with Gilbert's hats, the newest sweaters and serge skirts were worn with white tam-o-shanters, Viola Dolan adding the finishing touch to her smart outfit by leading out a blue-blooded bull pup, that marched down the runway as gaily as any of the models.

A sample of the popular knit sweater suits in blue wool was shown and two models of broadcloth suits.

The bathing suits proved the sensation of Friday's display. Marguerite Howard, the dainty little dancer led the revue in a suit designed to represent a poppy. The American Beauty followed in red, white and blue stripes with a Liberty cap. A white satin "Folly" costume was one of the daintiest but would never have stood ocean waves.

When Viola Dolan and Classie Marlowe appeared in cerise taffeta and black and white satin the boys had a terrible struggle with their spot lights, but finally got them distributed in such a way that all the pretty costumes were properly displayed. It was the prettiest revue on record and received a splendid ovation from the audience.

Many People Want Homes

H. D. Charlton, architectural designer for the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber company, will need a bicycle or an automobile to follow up all of the prospective home builders who are registering at the Bentley bungalow booth at the exposition this week. The service given by this firm is eliciting much favorable comment from visitors who are unaccustomed to California methods.

Tropico Potteries, Inc.

The Glendale Theatre building is shown as an example of architectural terra cotta artistry by the Tropico Potteries, Inc., whose products were used on this magnificent pile. All sizes of sewer pipe such as will be used in the first units of Glendale's sewage system, and inlay tile samples are shown the visitors at the exposition. The Tropico Potteries is there with a view of impressing upon the people of Glendale the importance of this local industry which employs hundreds of workmen.

MOON FESTIVAL IS OPENED; CROWDS WILL ATTEND

Varied Attractions Provided and Plenty of Fun for Everyone Is Assured

fantastic and Arabesque ornamentations of the various booths and amusement concessions present an array of color and grotesqueness that is in keeping with the gala Moon Festival.

Officially Opened

At 2 p. m. the official opening of the celebration, which is being staged for the purpose of raising funds to obtain a hall for the Monte Vista Post of the American Legion, took place on the grounds of Bolton hall, the new home of the Legion Post. The Glendale American Legion band, which is the official musical organization of the festival, played several pieces, after which Mrs. L. May Dean, representing the Woman's club, gave an address transferring the custody of the community flag to the Tujunga legionnaires.

Post Commander A. J. Scribner then gave a brief acceptance speech in which he stated that "No gift obtainable in the entire world would be more acceptable and appreciated by the group of men which I represent than this bit of cloth, the flag of the greatest nation on the face of the earth."

Following Commander Scribner's address he was presented with a beautiful and exquisitely arranged bouquet of deep blue bachelors' buttons surrounded by a concentric array of red and white carnations. The bouquet was presented by little Miss Maude Therese Morgan, who was stunningly garbed in an appropriate costume.

Tells of Old Timers

Colonel F. M. Ashby, who is Tujunga postmaster, civil war veteran, one of the oldest residents of the valley and a general booster for the community, concluded the opening ceremony with an address on "Old Timers."

The program for the remainder of the day consisted of a reception to visiting ladies by the Woman's club, a camp fire and community singing service, exhibition by pupils of the Pearl Keller school of dancing of Glendale and the grand ball, which was held in the big open air pavilion.

One of the new and novel features of the Moon Festival is the unique manner in which tickets are obtained for the various amusements and concessions. Tickets that will admit the holder to any booth or concession are sold by a special committee, so that the usual financial confusion encountered at similar affairs will be avoided. Mesdames G. J. Fisher, Norman Bell, E. Simpson, O. A. Upson and H. W. Zachau are in charge of the ticket selling and information booths.

Giving Away Prizes

Miss S. B. Weiman, who is vice-commander of the auxiliary of the Monte Vista Post, American Legion, is in charge of the badge and raffle booth, which is located in Bolton hall. Upon each of the official Festival badges a number is stamped, each number entitling the holder to a chance on the many valuable prizes to be given away on the last night of the fair. The awards, which are on exhibition at Miss Weiman's booth, consist of an oil painting of the Monte Vista valley by P. McNeely, a $500 fire insurance policy, automobile tires, an antique crayon picture, five sets of Marquette tire tools and quantities of local mountain honey.

The lucky numbers will be drawn from a bag by the queen of the Festival, who will be selected by popular vote on Tuesday. Votes for the most popular beauties of the valley are already pouring into the headquarters, which is being conducted by Mrs. Charles Forrester.

First Day's Balloting

The results of the first day's balloting are as follows for the five leading candidates: Miss Frances Morgan, 3160; Miss Marcelena Shaner, 3001; Miss Mary Begue, 2977; Mrs. Edith Eichenhofer, 2001; Miss Genevieve Wilcut, 2000.

The leading members of the auxiliary of the Monte Vista American Legion Post, which organization has voluntarily furnished the hall and is taking an active part in the Moon Festival, are Mrs. Lila Begue, president; Mrs. Cora Wilson, vice-president; Mrs. Vera Gale, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Edna Virginia Krone, Mrs. Sadie Scribner, Misses Mary Begue, Lois Weiman, Eva May Johnson, Grace Walker and Mayme Wilson.

RAISE RED FLAG IN IRELAND

DUBLIN, Sept. 3.—The red flag has been raised in southern Ireland. In Bruree, County Limerick, a group of transport workers seized a mill and a bakery and declared themselves a soviet. Placards declaring that the mills were now the property of Bruree soviet workers were put up in the town. They contained the announcement:

"We make bread, not profits."

The action followed the dismissal of two employees of the mill, whom the owners refused to reinstate.

EFFORTS OF TRADE ASSOCIATION ARE EFFECTIVE

Auto Repair Shops Efficiency Shows Increase; Reduced Charges Reported

The effort of the California Automobile Trade Association to increase efficiency of repair shops and garages, and thus reduce the prices to ultimate consumers is bearing fruit all over the state.

During the war and the period immediately after the signing of the armistice, the demand for motor mechanics and repair men was so great that men who knew little about repairing motor cars found it was easy to secure jobs as first class mechanics.

Since that time there has been a weeding out of most of these unfitted men, and the workers now realize that they must know what they are doing or they will not be allowed to handle automobiles or repair them.

Reports Show Results

"Reports from secretary-managers from all parts of the state show that mechanics are becoming more and more efficient and complaints of poor work fewer," says Robert W. Martland, secretary-manager of the state association. "The effort of the California Automobile Trade Association has always been directed to making better business men of the firms now in the automotive industry.

"The motorist is affected to a greater extent than he realizes. If he takes his car to a place where things are run without waste, he can get the job done at lower cost than if he takes his motor car to an establishment which has to add the cost of waste time to the labor charges of the job.

"Conditions are improving every day, and our efforts are bearing fruit all over the country."

CAN RAISE MOST ANYTHING

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—California runs the gamut from the best of the good to the worst of the evil, Billy Sunday made clear today.

"You can raise anything—onions to oranges, alfalfa to apricots, beans to lemons, beets to berries," the evangelist said after telling how beautiful the state is from "Mount Shasta on the north to Coronado's laughing beach on the south. You have more business men, more up to the minute boosters, snappy men who are 100 per cent boosters; you have more parasites and idlers; you have more people who are twelve inches to the foot and 2,000 pounds to the ton; you have fewer gold patriots and more I. W. W. socialistic, bolshevik radicals, syndicalists, anarchists and anti-Americans than any section of the United States.

"You have more people who are true blue to the gospel and love God and hate the devil; more who seem to be in love with the devil and hate God; more sunshine than any place that I know."

NEW U. S. LOAN PROPOSED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The government shortly will be forced to ask the American people to subscribe to a huge loan of from $7,500,000,000 or $8,000,000,000, members of the senate finance committee declared today. This sum will be required by 1923 to pay back to American citizens the money they have already loaned Uncle Sam and for which they hold Victory notes, war savings stamps and short time certificates of indebtedness. These obligations must be paid in cash and to obtain this huge sum, a new loan must be floated. Appeals probably will be made to these bond holders to exchange their holdings for the new bond. In other words, according to senators, the government finds itself unable to pay off this debt and must renew it for a further term of years.

TUNNEL WAY INTO STORE

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3.—Bandits, who operated with unusual daring, tunneled their way into a Hollywood grocery and escaped with a safe containing more than $300. The thieves made a large hole in the brick wall with picks, shovels and crowbars, then with block and tackle, pulled the heavy safe to the opening and loaded it into a waiting automobile. Police believe the same band later lowered themselves through a skylight into the jewelry store of E. E. Crane on South Hill street

NEW NAVY YARD CHIEF

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—Announcement that Rear Admiral Josiah S. McKean, commanding the seventh division of the Pacific fleet, will be appointed to succeed Captain Edward L. Beach as commandant at Mare Island navy yard, was contained in a letter from Congressman Curry received by naval authorities here.

GENERAL WOOD ACCEPTS

MANILA, P. I., Sept. 3.—Major General Leonard Wood has accepted the post of governor-general of the Philippine Islands which has been tendered to him by President Harding. At the request of President Harding General Wood will go at once to China on a diplomatic mission. He will return early in October at which time he will, it is understood, formally take office.

Locals and Personals

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Packer of 362 West Riverdale Drive at Vancouver, B. C., stating that they are having a splendid time and have had a wonderful trip north.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Peirce of 317 West Vine street will return September 10 from the beach, where they have been enjoying a vacation after their business and pleasure trip in the east.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Dunlop of 203 Burchett street have as their house guest Mr. Dunlop's brother, Francis Dunlop from Eastland, Texas. Mr. Dunlop will be in Glendale for about a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilkinson of 227 North Central avenue will be the dinner guests at the White Inn this evening, of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oliver. The affair is in celebration of the second wedding anniversary of the Wilkinsons.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Engle and sons Ray Engle and Harold Engle of 814 East Harvard street and Miss Mildred Moody will spend Sunday and Labor day at Santa Barbara, where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Moody. They will make the trip by automobile.

Mrs. Flower of Adams street entertained a number of little girls in honor of her daughter Ellen's birthday. Seven candles decorated the birthday cake. Merry games were played and all enjoyed a good time and wished the little miss many more birthdays.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foss and son Charles, Jr., former residents of this city, were recent motorists to Glendale, visiting a number of their friends and former neighbors. They are now living on Mr. Foss' big fruit and grain ranch which is located in the Perris valley.

Mrs. Hattie E. Gaylord has just returned from Long Beach where she visited old time friends, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Howes the past week. Mr. Howes will be remembered by many in Glendale as a musician of ability. As director of the dramatic cantatas, "Queen Esther" and "Joseph's Bondage" he gave his first production in California for the local W. C. T. U. while Mrs. Gaylord was president. Before returning east he was a resident of Glendale, but California called and he has recently started a publishing company for the purpose of supplying songs to singers for choirs and choruses.

Bats in full flight in the dark will avoid threads stretched across their path.

CARD PARTY AND DANCE

A very pleasant card party and dance was held at the residence of Mrs. J. O'Neil Farrell at 1831 Gardena avenue Friday evening. About twenty-five couples were in attendance. She was assisted by Mrs. G. H. Brousseau, Mrs. W. Brummell, Mrs. A. McGowan, Miss Zleakler, Mrs. Touhay, Mrs. J. F. Zimmer and Mrs. B. Leslie. Among the guests were Mrs. Ernest Ouimet and Miss Clara Williams of Montreal, Canada. The sum of $30 was realized for the church fair to be held at the new Holy Family Catholic church on October 5, 6 and 7.

ENJOY ALL DAY OUTING

A party of Glendale people who enjoyed an all day picnic at Brookside Park yesterday included Mr. and Mrs. Grove Tyler and daughter, Louise, Mrs. B. R. Matthiesen, Howard Denison, Mrs. H. A. Matthiesen and son and daughter, Jens and Grace, Miss Giess, Mrs. Fred Nicolaus and daughter, Mildred, Mrs. Thomas Addison, Mrs. Earl Starkey and daughters, Grace and May, Mrs. Frank Matthiesen and daughter, Dorothy, and Mr. and Mrs. Hatch Lord of Pasadena. Bathing provided the chief diversion of the day.

STILL AFRAID

"Have you any last request to make?"

"Yes. Ask the minister who preaches my funeral sermon not to say I am better off."

"But you will be better off."

"I know it, but my wife will think I told him to say so."

HOW TO GET BY

Lay out more than you can do,
Then do it;
Bite off more than you can chew,
And chew it.
Hitch your wwagon to a star,
Keep your seat—and there you are!
You can do it!

ADAPTION

The old saying "Here's How" used to refer to drinking the festive spirit. Now it applies to making it.

After marriage a foolish man stops paying a wife compliments and begins to pay her bills.

Why does a corporation sometimes wait until there is nothing to receive before asking for a receiver?

Nothing can bring you peace but yourself—Emerson.

Don't do any disagreeable thing today that you can just as well put off until tomorrow. Perhaps tomorrow you won't have to do it.

Wives are wonderful things. Every man should have at least one, as a matter of education.

The same hearts beat in every human breast.—Matthew Arnold.
